BLACK ROBIN™

RARE GIN

THE BLACK ROBIN BRAND

Black Robin Rare Gin is inspired by the extremely rare and endangered Black Robin (Petroica traversi), found only on the remote Rangatira and Mangere Islands in New Zealand's Chatham Islands. Successfully saved from extinction in the 1980's when their numbers were as low as five, their survival rested on the sole breeding female, Old Blue, who's direct ancestors now number more than 280. With every bottle sold we make a donation of 50c to The Royal Forest and Bird Protection Society of New Zealand who work tirelessly to protect NZ's native species and wild spaces for generations to come.

“A true connoisseurs Gin - flavoursome, complex, makes a simply stunning martini ”

Mike Collings ex-Worldwide Brand Director Tanqueray Gin

GIN PROFILE

43% Alc/Vol. Hand-crafted batch-distilled in a German made hybrid copper pot still. Infused with exotic botanicals, all carefully balanced and composed, five distillations refine the gin to produce a velvety smooth texture.

NOSE

A complex, lifted nose, fresh and beguiling. Multilayered candied lemon and lime zest sub structure, rises to a gentle botanical mix of chervil, watercress, parsley and mint in the middle that mixes with an exceptional delicacy of 'Horopito' derived liquorice root and star anise spices to finish. All the scents are delightfully clear without any hint of alcohol heat to disturb the aroma.

PALATE

It has a piercing clarity of flavour. Zippy lemongrass and lime zest zing around the sides of the tongue waking it up while the weight of the alcohol adds unctuousness to the palate, gently carrying the herbaceous and grassy botanicals through the mouth while the citrus zing slowly evaporates the body of the drink from the sides to the centre of the tongue leaving the ethereal liquorice root and star anise spices from the addition of 'Horopito', floating above like mist on a lake. There is no hint of harshness or any competition of nuances of flavour or aroma, just a gentle evolution of complexity, all seemingly borne of each other.
